Energy Medicine Animal Program for Kids

Caring For Our Animals

The Children's Program is designed around kids needs in caring for and about animals. This unique program will address the basics as well the unique features of healing of the self through our animal connections in harmony with nature.

EMAP has been taught worldwide to kids, adults and professionals in Australia, South Africa, Canada and throughout the USA capturing the unique features of how animals reflect their needs energetically and the healing needs of humans in harmony with nature. The content is based on the unique features of the Transform Your Life through Energy Medicine Program (TYLEM™).

Learn the basics in caring for our animal companions using energy medicine. The health and healing needs of animals come to life as we learn how to evaluate what is happening to the animal in relationship to what is going on around him/her. Through simple assessments using a heart centered approach we are able to determine the energy flow in animals and then use simple ways to balance the energy.

Objectives

1. Describe the animal energy system.
2. Identify energy blocks in animals.
3. Practice giving energy interventions on the self and then on animals.
4. Share experiences.
5. Explore ways animals communicate with humans and ways humans communicate with animals.
6. Describe implications of working with the energy system on various problems including emergency care of animals, identifying behavior problems and ways to resolve them.

Twila Hayes, CEMP/S/I
Energy Medicine Animal Program
Coordinator - Canada.

Twila is a horse whisperer. She has an active horse and human practice in Western Canada and is an expert horsewoman. She has an extraordinary ability to connect with animals and communicate with them sensing their inner dynamics that affect their health and healing. Following guidance and sensitivity, Twila creates a unique framework to assist animals in their healing process connected to their role with humans and the environment. Her leadership has brought additional expertise to the program.
